From the St. Louis Star, April 1st: "All women look alike to Edward Victor Benson, an automobile dealer of 4502 Delmar, boulevard, according to the testimony of his erstwhile wife, Mrs. Eva Josephine Benson, who told Circuit Judge Thomas C. Hennings her matrimonial troubles Monday, and got a divorce and restoration of her maiden name. Mrs. Benson said her husband had confided in her that he wouldn't have the best woman in the world, and that they all looked alike to him. She lives with her mother, 1524 Mississippi avenue. The couple were married in Ironton, Mo., in 1906. Two years later, the wife said, Benson deserted her and would not return because he said he didn't want to be tied to any woman. Mrs. Benson said that she had been accustomed to many of the luxuries of life as a girl, but that after marriage she was left alone much of the time at Ironton, and was compelled to go to her husband's parents when she wanted supplies or anything to eat. She complained when the suit was brought that worry because of the conduct of her husband decreased her weight from 115 to 95 pounds. Her mother testified that her daughter was nervous and had grieved because of her domestic troubles. She said she believed her daughter really liked her husband until recently."

Many who were present will never forget the happy message of this happy man of God, who though feeble in the body is victorious in spirit.

Andrew J. Sheahan of Graniteville was confined to his room all of last week with a crippled leg. About two weeks ago Mr. Sheahan was superintending the hoisting of an engine with a derrick; in some way a rope slipped and a block was thrown against one of Mr. Sheahan's shins with great force, leaving him a mighty sore and crippled limb. It was fortunate, indeed, that no bones were broken. Andy is just now getting so he can move about and hopes to be fully recovered in a week or so.

Mrs. W. W. Reese of Bluntville, entertained the Lotta Club last Wednesday. This will be her last entertainment for the Club, due to the fact that her husband, Commissary Sergeant W. W. Reese, will retire from service this month. Sergeant and Mrs. Reese, have made many friends who will miss them very much, but inasmuch as they go to the grand old State of Missouri to take up work on their farm that they have planned on for many moons, their friends can not but wish them haste and health in their departure. — Leavenworth (Kansas) Times, March 23d.

Here are a few things about "The Town Fool": It's good food for reflection; his soul will never starve for excitement; he is wise enough to be made a fool of; he will make himself happy in the traps that have been laid for him; he will roll in their nets and sleep; he will always be taken in. It is the hospitality of circumstances, with torches and trumpets, like the guest, The Town Fool is taken in life, and the skeptic is cast out. Special Scenery carried by the Company for each act. Academy of Music, Ironton, Thursday, April 3d. Tickets 25, 35 and 50 cents. On sale at the Kandy Kitchen.

A. J. Sheahan expects to begin operations in the Syenite quarries in the next week or so. He says he has a fair lot of orders already booked and contemplates being quite busy during the summer. The Catholic folk are going to build a $300,000 seminary in St. Louis county this summer. The structure is to be of granite, brick or Carthage stone. The architect will be here this week to pass on the advisability of using granite in the construction. The building would require about $75,000 worth of stone. If Mr. Sheahan should be so fortunate as to secure this contract Graniteville would resume some of its old-time activity.

Miss Bertha Zude, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Zude, of Pilot Knob, Mo., and Mr. Edward Dinger, of Ironton, son of the late Judge Dinger, were married Sunday evening at 7:00 P. M. at the home of the bride. Only the nearest relatives were present at the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. C. E. Brandt, of the Pilot Knob Lutheran church. Miss Allie Johnson, niece of the groom, acted as bridesmaid, and was charmingly dressed in light blue. Mr. Henry Weber, brother of the bride, acted as best man. The bridal robe was of white embroidered net, and the bridal veil of tulle was prettily arranged over a crown of orange blossoms. A dainty supper was served in those present, and a pleasant evening was spent by all. Mr. and Mrs. Dinger will make their home in Ironton.

Shortly after the first of this month Dr. W. J. Smith will open his new hotel, the "Haven of Rest." Just now the large building adjoining the Emerson Park on the north is all torn up in its "innards," what with painting, remodeling, furnishing, etc., but by next week all will be duly adjusted and in order. The hotel contains 31 bed-rooms, extensive parlors, kitchen, dining room, bath rooms and toilet rooms—all under the one roof. It is three stories high, and the first and second of these have their rooms opening on porches ten feet wide, with a total length of about 350 feet. Dr. Smith is providing the intended hostelry with all the modern comforts and conveniences attaching to similar structures in the city. Hot and cold water for the bath and toilet will be provided. There will be no lack of the element, with a cistern capacity of 1100 bbls., beside wells of living water. Fixtures for electric lights are being installed in all the rooms. In addition to the main building, there are three eight-room and two four-room cottages on the premises, adapted to the use of families preferring a little separation from "the madding crowd." Altogether, the "Haven of Rest" promises not to belie its title, and the weary seeker after succor from hustle and bustle, as well as the commercial gentleman on business intent, will be made welcome to the enjoyment of pure, life-giving air and the tonic scenery of the Ozarks, with no extra charge for these desirable and enjoyable adjuncts.

School Notes.

Mrs. B. W. Loomis gave a lecture to several rooms Monday on the house-fly, and its relation to diseases. Mrs. Loomis tells us of the several species of flies, but since the members of all the other species are compared to the house-fly are insignificant the lecture considered only this species. The house-fly comprises about 98 per cent of all other flies. It breeds in stables, rubbish and decaying vegetable matter. The life cycle covers approximately ten days. Eggs hatch in about eight hours from the time of deposition. The first molt occurs a day later; the second molt occurs one day later, and the pupa is found three days later. The grub remains in the pupa stage 5 days and emerges a full grown fly. Thus the cycle covers ten days. In this climate it gives abundant time for the development of, from twelve to fourteen generations each summer. Since each lays from 120 to 200 eggs at one time the possible progeny of a single fly is more than 5 1/2 million millions. The order of prevention is to break the cycle and prevent hatching. This can be done by treating manure heaps with chloride of lime, or coal oil. Also, by placing all rubbish in a screen receptacle. Keeping stables clean. The fly carries the disease germs on his feet as he deposits them in the kitchen on your food. Some of the diseases transmitted in this way are typhoid fever, tuberculosis, diphtheria, cholera and other intestinal diseases. It will soon be time for these industrious insects to begin their deadly work. Let every one be ready to "swat him." It should be considered a disgrace to have flies in your house, because they breed in filth. Clean up. Two pupils, Ralph and Minnie Col-ins, are out of school sick with typhoid fever. Sorry to have them so sick.

The agriculture class are planting sweet potatoes for growing slips. You can send your order in any time and have plants reserved and ready for you when you want them.

I notice that our State has made an appropriation of $30,000 to pension disabled Confederate soldiers. It is almost too late now. This act should have passed ten years ago. I was talking with an old soldier, Saturday, a Mr. Allen, who lives on Carver Creek. He is 76 years old and very feeble. A pension will not help him very long and it will likely be six or twelve months before he can get his pension. As for myself, I am ready for another war, and do not need the pension. I expect to attend the Gettysburg reunion and help fight that battle over again. I will meet many of my old comrades there. The artillery will be placed in position just as it was at the battle. I hope to meet Bro. B. B. Cahoon of Fredericktown there. The State proposes to pay the transportation of both Union and Confederate soldiers.

Sunday morning I walked out in the yard and the sun was coming over the mountain in all its glory. Spring was putting out its blossoms and the grass was green; the birds were singing. I could not help from thanking God for His goodness to me through all these years. I felt real happy and am so thankful for His wonderful kindness to me. ISAAC.

Bellevue News.

The heaviest rain fall of this year fell here Monday and Monday night of last week; the creeks were past flooding everywhere in this valley Monday night, while on Wednesday a very severe blizzard raged here nearly all day, the snow being nearly six inches deep. This was certainly one of the worst spells of weather we have had during the past winter, but inasmuch as most of farmers in this section of the country have plenty of feed, we hear very little complaint. Noticing in the daily papers the very great devastation that has been wrought in various sections during the past week by cyclone, rain and flood, we certainly should be very thankful (and we are) that we are so very Purity in food, lower cost of living—these are the demands of the day.

Pure food is health, and health is economy itself. We cannot have health without healthful food.

The most healthful foods are the quickly raised flour foods—biscuit, cake, muffins, crusts and other pastry, when perfectly made from wholesome ingredients.

Dr. PRICE'S baking powder makes these foods in specially attractive, appetizing and wholesome form, and for both economic and hygienic reasons, such food should be more largely substituted for meat in the daily diet.

Theo. Oelschlager and S. Grunberg, to whom the writer four years ago sold his farm, one and a half miles south of Bellevue proper, two weeks ago traded their farm for property, in St. Louis, valued at $3000, and received in cash $600 additional. Mr. Oelschlager tells that this property is renting for $40 per month. They sold at auction last Monday nearly all of their personal property, and left here for St. Louis, where they will make their future home. We wish them much success in their new home.

Not long ago while "on the wing" writing insurance, we spent a short time in Arcadia and the Cove country. Mrs. Yount, who lives near the Cove, informed us that Miss Pearl and Marcus are both in the Gem City Business College, Illinois; the one as a teacher, the other as a pupil, where he will graduate in June.

Recently while transacting some insurance business with Sheriff Blue in Ironton, we accepted an invitation to stop over night with him. Mr. and Mrs. Blue certainly know how to make one feel perfectly at home, and we very much enjoyed our stay with them.

The Baptist people had a swell affair at an egg roast on the bank of the creek near R. E. Johnston's store, Saturday night, March 22. Fifteen dozen eggs, and two very large, fat hens were used for the occasion, and it is needless to say that every man, woman and child had plenty to eat. In fact every body present had a good time, and left for home wishing that Easter might come quite often instead of once a year only.

Miss Florence Hatley, who attended the Thorn Grove school, took the examinations on the questions furnished by State Superintendent Evans for graduation from the eighth grade, and has made satisfactory grades, and will receive her diploma at the Commencement Exercise to be held in Ironton in May. This speaks well of the teacher in charge of the Thorn Grove school, inasmuch as Miss Florence attended school only the last ten weeks, and was the only pupil in her class actually doing 8th grade work.

Rev. S. H. Summers will begin today (Sunday) a protracted meeting in the Baptist church. It is reported that he will be assisted later on by Rev. Taylor, a very noted revivalist and singer. Let everybody, regardless of creed or previous condition of servitude, come out to hear them.

E. M. Logan, after spending a few days in St. Louis on business, has returned home.

Dr. Meador was called to Monterey Wednesday to see a patient.

Mrs. A. Hale, last week, accompanied her son, Dr. Jesse Hale, to his home at Fowler, Texas, where she will spend a few months, with the hopes that the change in climate may very materially benefit her, as she is now in a very poor state of health.

Mr. Bollinger, who recently returned here from Texas, has purchased from Charley Edmonds the property known as the Goggin property. Mr. B. and family will make this their home.

The last report we heard from Lem Logan and wife was that they were in New York City. It is said they will return home on or about April 1.

Mrs. B. W. Bynum has been confined to her room for several days, but we are informed that she will soon be up and around again.

Auburn Edmonds last week sold to Wm. Keathley the property formerly owned by James Edmonds.

Bro. Andrew Myers moved to Des Arc in 1871. Before that time he lived on a farm adjoining Mr. Barney McCue. He was a Union soldier in the civil war. He had been in bad health for many years and was a great sufferer, but bore it with religious fortitude. He leaves one son, E.
